Introduction

Massachusetts College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences (MCPHS) Manchester campus is pleased to provide this results summary of the 2026 Sexual Misconduct Climate Survey. MCPHS administered the survey in compliance with RSA 188-H, which mandates all Institutions of Higher Education in New Hampshire to conduct a sexual misconduct climate survey biennially and publish a summary report on the findings.

The survey was developed by a statewide taskforce and is based the Administrator Researcher Campus Climate Collaborative \(ARC3\). MCPHS reviewed the base survey and adjusted response options to align with our campus and resources. In the survey, students were asked to answer questions regarding their experiences with, outcomes, and perceptions of campus sexual misconduct and campus safety.

The Office of Institutional Research and Assessment (OIRA) administered the survey during the 2026 spring term. It was open for approximately four weeks, from February 4th through March 6th. The survey was sent to all Manchester-based students, as well as fully online students who reside in New Hampshire, for a total of 259. The survey was completed by 57 students, for a response rate of 22%.

Questions about the administration of this survey or its results may be directed to Rachel Andoscia, MCPHS Title IX Coordinator, at titleIX@mcphs.edu. You may find more information about Title IX at MCPHS here: <https://www.mcphs.edu/about/legal/title-ix>.

Response Rate and Demographics

The MCPHS Manchester campus is a non-residential campus that serves all graduate and professional students from the following programs: nursing, occupational therapy, pharmacy, and physician assistant studies.

All students enrolled at the MCPHS Manchester Campus (n=231), as well as fully online students who reside in New Hampshire (n=28), were invited to participate in the climate survey. The survey was sent to 259 students and was completed by 57 students, for a response rate of 22%. The survey was completely voluntary, and respondents could choose the questions they wished to answer and could exit at any point. Therefore, the number of responses presented in the following tables may vary by question due to respondents skipping questions. Some of the measures in tables 1 and 2 allowed students to check all that apply, so cumulative percentages may exceed 100%.

Perceptions of Campus Climate Regarding Sexual Misconduct

A. Institutional Response

Respondents were asked to respond to statements describing how they thought MCPHS might handle it if a student reported a sexual misconduct incident. Sexual misconduct was defined as “physical contact or non-physical conduct of a sexual nature in the absence of clear, knowing and voluntary consent.” Examples include sexual or gender-based harassment, stalking, dating/relationship violence, and sexual violence.

Table 4 summarizes participants’ perceptions of how “likely” or “very likely” they believe MCPHS would be able to handle a report of sexual misconduct.

Table 4: Perceptions of How MCPHS Might Handle a Report of Sexual Misconduct	n	% of Response to Statements with Likely/Very Likely
The following statements describe how MCPHS might handle it if a student reported an incident of sexual misconduct. Using the scale provided, please indicate the likelihood of each statement.
The institution would take the report seriously.	53	93%
The institution would maintain the privacy of the person making the report.	51	89%
The institution would do its best to honor the request of the person about how to go forward with the case.	53	93%
The institution would take steps to protect the safety of the person making the report.	53	93%
The institution would provide supportive measures to the person who made the report (e.g. academic, housing).	52	91%
The institution would take action to address factors that may have led to the sexual misconduct.	54	95%
The institution would punish the person who made the report.	25	44%
The institution would handle the report fairly.	53	93%

B. Student Awareness of Institutional Policies and Procedures

Table 5 presents the percentage of participants who selected that they feel “confident” or “very confident” regarding statements about the institutional policies and procedures of reporting sexual misconduct at MCPHS.

Table 5: Student Awareness of Institutional Policies and Procedures	n	% of Response to Statements with Confident/Very Confident
Using the scale provided, please indicate your level of confidence with the following statements.
I would know how to make a report of sexual misconduct.	31	54%

Students were asked to indicate how aware they are of the function of the campus and community resources specifically related to sexual misconduct at MCPHS. Table 7 shows that the resources for which the greatest proportion of students were very or extremely aware of their function were Counseling Services (58%) and Public Safety (49%).

¹ The measures in this table allowed students to check all that apply, so cumulative percentages exceed 100%.

Sexual Misconduct

The types of victimization measured in the sexual misconduct climate survey included participant reports of sexual harassment by students, stalking, dating violence, sexual violence, and sexual harassment by a faculty and/or staff member. Participants were asked to identify all the victimization types that they have experienced “since you enrolled at MCPHS.”

Participants who indicated experiencing at least one instance of a given type of victimization (mentioned above) were asked follow-up questions for that section. The data presented are not mutually exclusive, meaning that individuals could be counted in each subcategory more than once (i.e., they experienced more than one type of victimization).

Students rated the frequency with which situations relating to sexual misconduct had occurred since enrolling at their college as never, once, twice, or more than two times. Any answer other than never for each type of sexual misconduct was treated as an affirmative response. For each situation of sexual misconduct, the number (n) and percent (%) of participants who reported at least one instance of the given situation is reported.

A. Sexual Harassment by Students

Students were asked about sexual harassment situations initiated by another student(s) at MCPHS, as well as a visitor(s) and guest(s) of a student. Overall, 14 participants (25%) reported experiencing at least one instance of sexual harassment by students (Table 8).

Spread unwelcome sexual rumors about you through spoken comments or by text, email, or social media (i.e., Instagram, Snapchat, TikTok)	2	4%

Follow-Up: Sexual Harassment by Students

All respondents who reported at least one instance of sexual harassment by a student, visitor, or guest were asked if they would like to answer follow-up questions on the topic. Overall, 7 participants (12%) reported experiencing at least one instance of sexual harassment and were willing to answer follow-up questions (Table 10).

Made threats to your physical or emotional safety online?	1	20%
Spread rumors about you online, whether they were true or not?	0	0%
Used coercion, threats, or intimidation to gain access to your phone, email, or other accounts?	0	0%

Follow-Up: Stalking Victimization

All respondents who reported at least one instance of stalking victimization were asked if they would like to answer follow-up questions on the topic. Less than 2 respondents who reported experiencing stalking victimization were willing to answer follow-up questions. This data is not shared in the report for privacy reasons.

C. Dating Violence Victimization

Students were asked about whether they had experienced a set of situations relating to dating violence since they enrolled at MCPHS. Overall, 6 participants (11%) reported experiencing at least one instance of dating violence victimization (Table 13).

Table 13: Dating Violence	n	% of Total Respondents Who Experienced At Least One Instance

The person repeatedly humiliated me or put me down	4	67%
The person kept tabs on me by following me in person, monitoring my location, or gaining access to my accounts/devices	3	50%

Follow-Up: Dating Violence Victimization

All respondents who reported at least one instance of dating violence victimization were asked if they would like to answer follow-up questions on the topic. Less than 3 respondents who reported experiencing dating violence victimization were willing to answer follow-up questions. This data is not shared in the report for privacy reasons.

D. Sexual Violence Victimization

Students were asked about whether they had experienced four different forms of sexual violence since they enrolled at MCPHS, whether on-campus, off-campus, during a break, or when school was in session. Overall, 4 participants (7%) reported experiencing at least one instance of sexual violence victimization (Table 15).

Follow-Up: Sexual Harassment by Faculty/Staff

All respondents who reported at least one instance of sexual harassment by faculty/staff were asked if they would like to answer follow-up questions on the topic. Less than 3 respondents reported experiencing sexual harassment by faculty/staff and were willing to answer follow-up questions. This data is not shared in the report for privacy reasons.

Institutional Responses

A. Reporting Experiences

Students who reported experiencing at least one instance of one or more of the five types of sexual misconduct captured in the survey were asked if they told someone about the incident. Of the 21 participants who reported experiencing sexual misconduct, 9 (43%) reported telling someone about the incident of sexual misconduct victimization before responding to the survey (Table 19).

Table 19: Telling Someone About Sexual Misconduct Victimization	n	% of Respondents Who Answered Yes
Individual told someone about the experiences	9	43%

Students who told someone were asked to indicate whom they told. Table 20 shows that the highest proportion of students who reported sexual misconduct told their close friend other than their roommate (78%).

Table 20: Whom Students Told About the Sexual Misconduct	n	% of Respondents²
Students who told someone about the incident told:

² The measure in this table allowed students to check all that apply, so the cumulative percentage exceeds 100%.

If students indicated that they told specific campus resources about the incident, they were asked how useful those resources were in helping them deal with the incident, and about the institutional response to their reporting. Less than 5 respondents used these specific resources. This data is not shared in the report for privacy reasons.

Campus Safety

All survey respondents were asked a series of questions relating to campus safety.

A. Sense of Safety

Table 21 presents the percentage of participants who “agree” or “strongly agree” with statements about their sense of safety as a student. The majority of respondents feel safe from the four forms of sexual misconduct asked about.

Table 21: Sense of Safety	n	% of Response to Statements with Agree/Strongly Agree
